

WENDY CAPLAND

- Internationally Recognized Executive and Leadership Development Expert
- Women's Leadership Expert
- Sought-After Speaker in High Demand
- Best Selling Author
- Chief Executive Officer and Founder of Vision Quest Consulting

Wendy Capland is an internationally recognized leadership development and Executive Coaching expert. With 30 years of business and leadership experience, Wendy has worked as CEO of Vision Quest Consulting to develop the top leadership talent of executives and leaders in global Fortune 500 companies as well as entrepreneurs who are creating more business success, playing a bigger game, and bringing forward their leadership in new ways to create extraordinary results.

Wendy holds deep corporate leadership development expertise. She has had many years of experience helping organizations develop their leadership roadmap and execute comprehensive program roll-outs across their organizations. Wendy acts as a sounding board and confidential thought-partner working with market leaders in Technology, Finance, Healthcare, Insurance, Professional Services and Consumer Product corporations in the United States, Canada, Europe, and China who are committed to growing their businesses and their leadership talent.

Wendy has a special passion for developing women who want to learn new ways to more powerfully navigate themselves and their careers as women leaders. She conducts unique and powerful women's leadership programs for individuals and corporations. These programs ignite, inspire, and motivate professional women who are ready to create a new kind of leadership for themselves as they learn to expand their vision, their contributions, and their impact.

Wendy is best selling author of the book, Your Next Bold Move for Women. She has been interviewed multiple times on NBC, Fox, featured in various publications for many years, and is a sought after speaker having spoken at many of the most prestigious Women's Leadership Conferences in the United States, sharing a stage with other notable women leaders such as Hillary Clinton, Meg Whitman, Viola Davis, and Sallie Krawcheck to name a few.

Wendy has contributed significantly back to the community as an Executive Coach to Ted.com's Global Leadership Program and at the Global Institute for Leadership Development, and for 7 years her firm provided Leadership Coaching for 3500 women annually at the renowned and longest continuously running conference for women's leadership in the country; The Simmons Leadership Conference.

Wendy Capland

WWW.WENDYCAPLAND.COM

Wendy has achieved some of the most highly regarded accomplishments in her field. She was nominated and elected by her peers for induction into the International Coach Federation New England Hall of Fame for her contribution to the coaching profession. She is a founding member of ICF-New England and through her leadership became the largest chapter worldwide.

Wendy holds a Master Certified Coach certification; the highest international designation awarded to coaches by the International Coach Federation, and is one of the top 4% of all certified coaches worldwide. Wendy holds a master's degree in Counseling Psychology with a concentration in Business Management from Boston College and a bachelor's degree from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

Wendy is relentlessly passionate and committed to her health and can be found early mornings in the gym. She enjoys spending precious time with the man of her dreams, her husband and with their adult children, when they can spare some time for their mama.

If you would like to schedule Wendy to speak at an event or about an in-house corporate women's leadership program, contact info@WendyCapland.com.